

You're not loosing me
No, you're not loosing me.
(x2)

I've seemed to walk pretty far,
in the years that've past.
I've seen plenty of things,
that you'd label as harsh.

There've been times in the moments,
when I'd question to say,
if you were always there,
would it always be ok?

Independence,
when I was young,
through the streets of London,
to the shop I'd run.

With a pound in my pocket,
and a grin on my face,
I'd buy a carton of milk
and something sweet to taste.

(Chorus)

Arms open wide,
running without fear,
As the prodigal flies,
I know you'll always be near.

I guess what I'm saying is,
you've grown me up,
to live each day that I live,
as the woman I've become.

A normal life has never been on the cards,
And I can blame that on you,
'cause you're as normal as mars.

So I'll take this pen,
and I'll write it down.
To be torchlight in the places,
only darkness is found.

(Chorus)

Oh I see in your eyes,
that you're proud of me.
and I know you'll be with me,
as I cross the seas.

It just the way that I think
is sometimes tough to say,
but I hope that this song,
will say I love you anyway.

You're not loosing me,
it's just there's so much, that I can see.
Oh You're not loosing me,
You'll always be my daddy.
